PAPER THIN

A boy was assigned a paper on heritage and genealogy. He asked his mother, "how were grandpa and grandma born?"

"Well honey," fumbled the young boy's mother, "the stork brought them into the world."

"Oh," said the boy, "then how did you and daddy get born?"

"Oh, the stork brought us too."

"Well, then, how was I born?" the boy persisted.

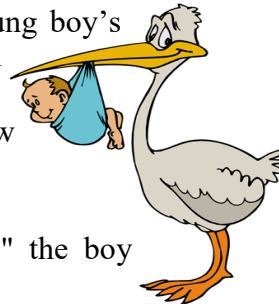

"Well, darling," said the mother with a sudden flash of inspiration, "why don't you ask your father!"

The boy waited patiently and, when his father came home, he asked the question, "How was I born?"

Smiling, the boy's father reached out, tousled his son's hair and said, "we found you under a cabbage leaf!"

Several days later, the boy handed in his paper to the teacher who read aloud the boy's opening sentence:

"This report has been very difficult to write. Apparently there hasn't been a natural childbirth in my family for three generations."

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On June 10, 1692, Bridget Bishop became the first person executed for witchcraft during the notorious Salem witch trials, after a trial lasting eight days. She had already been accused and declared innocent a decade prior to the hysteria.

* On June 11, 1509, England's King Henry VIII married the first of his ill-fated wives, Catherine of Aragon. When she failed to produce a male heir, he divorced her against the will of the Roman Catholic Church, triggering the country's Protestant Reformation. Catherine spent her last years in isolation and continued to consider herself England's rightful queen until her death.

* On June 12, 2016, Omar Mateen forced his way into Pulse, one of Orlando's biggest nightclubs, and opened fire with an assault rifle on the predominantly gay crowd. Forty-nine people died and dozens more were injured in what was then the deadliest mass shooting in modern American history.

* On June 13, 1805, having hurried ahead of the main body of his expedition to the Pacific with fellow explorer William Clark, Meriwether Lewis and four other men arrived at the Great Falls of the Missouri River, confirming that the party was headed in the right direction.

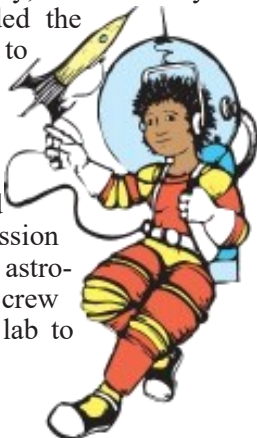

* On June 14, 1922, at the dedication of a memorial site for Francis Scott Key, composer of "The Star-Spangled Banner," Warren G. Harding became the first American president to have his voice transmitted by radio while addressing a crowd. It was not until three years later, however, that a president (Calvin Coolidge) would deliver a radio-specific address.

* On June 15, 1300, poet Dante Alighieri was elected one of six Priors (magistrates) of Florence, Italy, his native city.

His political activities, which included the banishment of several of his rivals, led to his exile from Florence and separation from his family for 15 years, during which time he wrote his most famous work, "The Divine Comedy."

* On June 16, 2012, China launched the Shenzhou-9 space capsule on a mission that included the country's first female astronaut, military pilot Liu Yang. The crew spent a week at the Tiangong space lab to test systems and conduct experiments.

Apache Junction Chamber of Commerce "2011 Small Business of the Year Award Winner"

If you look around today there's more content than every before. Of course, there are companies and brands that create content, but one the biggest groups of content creators today are regular people just like you and me.

I'm talking about all kinds of digital content. Videos, books, ebooks, audiobooks, digital art, commerce, courses & trainings, software, and subscriptions. It's amazing what's being done by regular, every day individuals like us.

This column you're reading in the publication you are holding. It's content created for consumption by the general public everywhere. Not just here in the US, but worldwide.

It's the reason we have a global economy. Anyone can be a part of it and earn from it.

I've been doing this type of business for a long time. I write this column to share what's possible with my readers.

Recently, I created another digital product. It's an ebook that shows 52 methods for promoting products online. My first two sales were from

Make Money On Purpose

"Creating Content" with Mike Lamb

Scotland and Jamaica. The reach of the Internet has the power to help anyone go from being poor or broke to having a life online with a regular income. Whether it's a side hustle or a full-time opportunity, the potential is there for everyone.

Guess what? Seniors are the fastest-growing group online. Unfortunately, it's also the most targeted so you have to be aware of what opportunities are good and which ones are scams.

A few weeks ago, I mentioned a course about learning digital marketing. It's called The Roadmap. For the last 15 months, it's been taking the Internet by storm. It's selling well here in the US and in 35 other countries. It's a course of videos that share the basics of what anyone needs to learn about digital marketing and earning a living online. You can see it at RoadmapGlobal.com

So far, over 48,000 people have decided to purchase the course to learn digital marketing skills and give themselves a leg up in this current economy.

Amazingly, over 80% of those who bought the course were newbies or beginners. They either had a business or wanted to start one. Some just wanted to learn how to create content and sell it online, and that information is also in the course.

The other significant benefit of The Roadmap course is the Master Resale Rights. This means you're now an owner when you buy the course. You can also sell the course to others and earn 100% of the profit. It's a digital license that gives you rights. This digital economy is fantastic, and this is another reason why. It's like income from thin air. Til, next time.

ACCORDING TO MY CALCULATIONS THE PROBLEM DOESN'T EXIST

OUCH, THAT HAD TO HURT

One day a cowboy walked into a blacksmith shop and picked up a horseshoe, not realizing that it had just come from the forge. He immediately dropped it and jammed his hand into his pocket, trying to act as if nothing had happened.

The blacksmith noticed and asked with a grin, "Kind of hot, wasn't it?"

"Nope," answered the cowboy through clenched teeth, "it just doesn't take me long to look at a horseshoe."

CRUISE FAIR

A man is walking down the street when he sees a sign in the window of a travel agency that says CRUISES - $200. He goes into the agency and hands the guy $200. The travel agent then whacks him over the head with a baseball bat and throws him in the river.

Another man walks down the street a half hour later, sees the sign and pays the $200. The travel agent whacks him with a bat and throws him in the river.

As the two men float down the river the first man asks, "Do you think they'll serve any food on this cruise?"

The second man says, "They didn't last year."

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

GETTING HELP WHEN LEAVING THE SERVICE

Those who leave the service can be in for quite a life change, not only for them but for their families. The transition can be something of a challenge. The VA knows this and has set aside $4 million to be used this year as grants to organizations that help with that transition. Additionally, the grant organizations are expected to match that amount, effectively doubling the money.

The services these organizations are to provide include employment placement, interview training, resume help and more. Just getting help with a resume can be a huge step. Trying to translate your military MOS to its civilian equivalent can be daunting. Besides the grants to organizations, the VA takes its own steps. See benefits.va.gov/transition/transition-home.asp for more information.

The Military to Civilian Readiness Pathway (M2C Ready) is a two-year effort: one year before you leave the service and one year afterward.

Part of M2C Ready is the Solid Start program, which helps veterans during the first year of leaving the service. They give you three calls during that first year (at the 90, 180 and 365 day marks) to make sure you know about the benefits you have. (A heads up ... take care that you're not talking to a scammer. Veterans are often targeted, so beware what personal info you disclose on the phone.)

You can call Solid Start at 800-827-0611 or see benefits.va.gov/TRANSITION/solid-start.asp. The page has lists and links to resources you can use. Among others, the sources include employment help, housing assistance, pensions, education, life insurance and getting your records. Don't miss the link to the VA Welcome Kit at the bottom of the page. Get one (it's a download) and keep it with your important documents.

If you're not actually leaving the service yet and are moving from one duty station to the next, hook up with TAP or the Transition Assistance Program. Check the "modules" at benefits.va.gov/TRANSITION/VA-TAP-Course-Catalog.asp for videos on topics of your choice. These are actual training sessions with resource guides.
