WHAT'S THE POINT?

Two anthropologists arrive at a south sea archipelago to study the natives. They go to two adjacent islands and set to work independently.

A few months later one of them takes a canoe over to the other island to see how his colleague is doing. When he gets there, he finds the other anthropologist standing among a group of natives.

"How is it going?" says the visiting anthropologist.

"Wonderful!" says the other, "I have discovered an important fact about the local language! Watch!"

He points at a palm tree and says, "what is that?" The natives, in unison, say "Umbalo-gong!"

He then points at a rock and says, "and that?" The natives again intone "Umbalo-gong!"

"You see!", says the beaming anthropologist, "I've discovered that they use the exact same word for 'rock' and for 'palm tree'!"

"That is truly amazing!" says the astonished visiting anthropologist, "On the other island, the same word means 'finger'!"

Good Point!

Customers Can't find you if they can't see you!!!

SECRET SCENT

Married for many years, the husband never knew why his wife used fabric softener until, one day, he noticed women coming up to him, sniffing, then saying under their breath, "Married!" and walking away.

He finally realized that fabric softeners are how wives mark their territory. Men can take off the ring, but it's hard to get that April fresh scent out of your clothes.

WALL EYED

Ask people why they have deer heads on their walls and they tell you it's because they're such beautiful animals.

I think my wife is beautiful, but I only have photographs of her on the wall.

I GET IT

I read this article that said the typical symptoms of stress are:

eating too much impulse buying driving too fast.

Are they kidding?

That is my idea of a perfect day.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On June 23, 1868, Christopher Latham Sholes patented the QWERTY typewriter, the first version of which he constructed using an old table, a circular piece of glass, a telegraph key and piano wire.

* On June 24, 2021, 98 people died when a 12-story, beachfront condominium collapsed in Surfside, Florida, near Miami. Engineers believed the cause of the disaster was a structural column or concrete slab giving way, and workers eventually cleared more than 18 million pounds of concrete and rubble from the site.

* On June 25, 1947, Anne Frank's diary account of her life in hiding during the Holocaust was first published, under the title "Het Achterhuis: Dagboekbrieven 14 Juni 1942--1 Augustus 1944." After reading it her father confessed that the book revealed a side of his daughter he had never known, saying that he "had no idea of the depth of her thoughts and feelings."

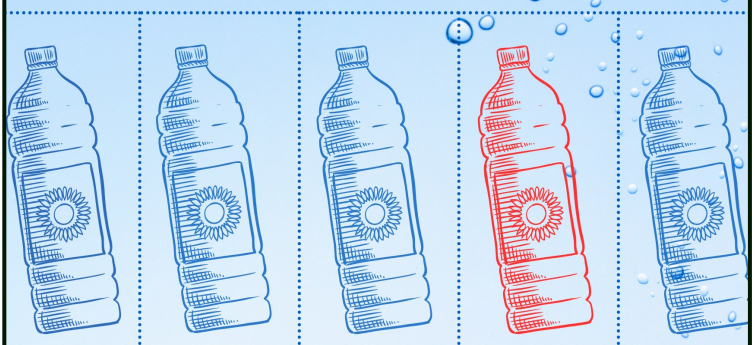

Fun Fact

The fluffy white clouds overhead might look weightless, but they are surprisingly heavy. Scientists estimate that a cumulus cloud measuring 1,000 meters holds approximately 131,894 gallons of water, which translates to an impressive weight of 1.1 million pounds.

* On June 27, 1922, the American Library Association (ALA) awarded the first Newbery Medal, honoring the year's best children's book, to "The Story of Mankind" by Hendrik Willem van Loon.

* On June 26, 1974, a pack of Wrigley's Juicy Fruit chewing gum became the first grocery item scanned with a Universal Product Code, or UPC, at a supermarket in Troy, Ohio.

* On June 28, 1904, Helen Keller, who'd been left deaf and blind since an illness at just 19 months old, graduated cum laude from Radcliffe College in Cambridge, Massachusetts. She was the first deaf-blind person to earn a bachelor's degree. Later, she would also become the first woman to be awarded an honorary degree from Harvard University.

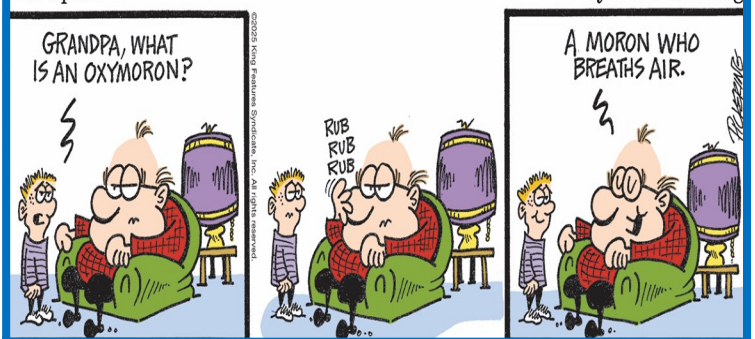

* On June 29, 2003, Katharine Hepburn, a four-time Academy Award winner for Best Actress and one of Hollywood's great screen legends, died of natural causes at the age of 96, at her home in Old Saybrook, Connecticut. In 1999, the American Film Institute had named her the greatest female actress in the history of American cinema, and after her death, the lights on Broadway were dimmed for an hour to mark her passing.

Knowing a little about me might help you understand why I do this column.
Part 2.

So the last few years, my focus has been on digital marketing and coaching others to use the web to create income.

Along with my coaching clients, I've had a small roster of business clients here in Arizona and around the country.

With the creation of AI and its profound impact on industry and society, many people are making monumental changes in how they conduct business and create content.

I have embraced AI and now use it as a tool in virtually every aspect of my business. I'm starting to help other local and regional businesses with it too.

The digital services platform I've used for the last year has already incorporated AI elements into the system. We're now able to offer AI Agents and Employees as a service to help business clients work more efficiently, be more effective,

Make Money On Purpose

"A Bit of History, Part 1" with Mike Lamb and get more done.

One of the cool AI tools we can now offer is the 24 Hour Receptionist.

Imagine having your phone answered automatically 24/7 with a qualified voice ready to answer any questions about your products or services. The AI will even book appointments and schedule meetings. It's your choice whether you tell your callers they're talking to an AI or not.

That's just one of the AI elements we're able to offer to help business owners be more efficient.

Nearly everything we're now doing has an AI elements within it.

Our most recent project, the Moneyroom Portal, started with an outline created by ChatGPT. We then provided the necessary prompts to create both content and graphics. It is changing by the hour and the content we can create constantly amazes me.

We're also using AI to code special elements for our websites. This would normally cost us hundreds, if not several thousand dollars, to create these active pieces of programming code.

We can look like experts without having the education or skill set. Truly phenomenal.

Another digital product we recently created is called Watched Hours Unlocked. It's a digital blueprint in the form of an ebook that helps people with YouTube channels or who wants to start one, get monetized.

Essentially, we have cracked the code for getting paid by Google and YouTube. This is huge, especially for those whereby getting paid for their channel. We've made it a Bonus for anyone becomes a member of our MoneyroomPortal.com. Check out the site to see it. More next time.

VETERANS ★ POST ★

by Freddy Groves

GETTING COMMUNITY CARE IS EASIER NOW

Remember when you wanted to go to a civilian doctor but getting VA approval for community care was such a hassle as you waited for it all to be signed off? The 2019 MISSION Act, letting veterans seek civilian care while the Department of Veterans Affairs paid for it, was well intentioned, but like so many things, the steps were a burden. No more.

As of now, we have the Senator Elizabeth Dole 21st Century Veterans Healthcare and Benefits Improvement Act, and the VA has just crossed that final approval signature off the list of requirements. There are still rules, yes, but they're more manageable. To qualify to have the VA pay for your civilian care, one of the following must be true:

-- Your state doesn't have a full-service VA facility. That means Alaska, Hawaii, New Hampshire, Guam, American Samoa, the Northern Mariana Islands and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

-- Distance is a problem. It takes more than 30 minutes to drive to an appointment for primary or mental health care, or 60 minutes for specialty care at the VA.

-- Time is a problem. The VA can't see you within 20 days for appointments for primary or mental health care or noninstitutional extended care, or within 28 days for specialty care.

-- The care you need isn't available at the VA.

-- You meet the distance and location provisions outlined in the former Veterans Choice Program. Grandfathered (previously qualified) veterans live 40 miles from care where there was a full-time primary care physician available and are still at the same address.

-- It's in the best interest of the veteran to get that civilian care. If you want care from a community provider, ask your VA primary care provider for a referral to get things started. If you ever applied to see a civilian doctor and the VA turned you down, you can appeal that decision with the Clinical Appeals process. Contact the patient advocate at the VA health care facility near you.
