WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT CHICKENS?

- A chicken will lay bigger and stronger eggs if you change the lighting in such a way as to make them think a day is 28 hours long!
- The largest chicken egg on record was nearly 12 oz., measuring 12 1/4" around.

- There are more chickens in the world than any other domesticated bird. More than one chicken for every human on the face of this earth.
- The Ameraucana and Araucana chickens can lay eggs colored in shades of green or blue, depending on the breed and its ancestry.

- In 2022, table egg production totaled 92.6 billion in the U.S. proving once again the U.S. has the best darn chickens in the world.

- The term 'Chicken Pox' didn't come from people believing that they came from chickens, it came from the Old English term 'gican pox' - which means the itching pox.

- There are approximately 400 million chickens in the United States.

- Chickens make sounds with actual meaning. They give different alarm calls when threatened by different predators.

- A rooster will attack anything that he thinks will harm the hens

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On Jan. 13, 1995, America3 ("America Cubed"), an all-female sailing team, won the first race of the America's Cup defender trials in little more than a minute. The team was the sport's first all-women crew to compete in the Cup's 144-year history.

* On Jan. 14, 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Presidential Proclamation No. 2537, requiring non-U.S. citizens from World War II-enemy countries (Italy, Germany and Japan) to register with the United States Department of Justice, after which they were given a Certificate of Identification for Aliens of Enemy Nationality. The Proclamation facilitated the beginning of full-scale Japanese American internment the following month.

* On Jan. 17, 2013, Sergei Filin, the artistic director of the Bolshoi Ballet, was attacked outside his Moscow home with acid by a masked man later revealed to have been hired by company dancer Pavel Dmitrichenko.

THE VALUE OF PERSISTENT PRAYER IS NOT THAT GOD WILL HEAR US BUT THAT WE WILL FINALLY HEAR HIM

* On Jan. 16, 1973, the final episode of "Bonanza," written and directed by Michael Landon, aired on NBC, completing a 14-season run centering on thrice-widowed patriarch Ben Cartwright, his sons, and their adventures on the thousand-square-mile Ponderosa Ranch in Nevada.

* On Jan. 15, 1951, Ilse Koch, known as the "Witch of Buchenwald" for the extraordinary sadism she displayed toward that camp's prisoners, was sentenced to life in prison for crimes against humanity by a West German court. The sentence was reduced to four years and Koch was released, then imprisoned again with a second life term. She escaped that fate by hanging herself with a bedsheet in 1967.

* On Jan. 18, 1862, America's 10th president, described in his New York Times obituary as "the most unpopular public man that had ever held any office in the United States," John Tyler died at age 71 in Richmond, Virginia.

* On Jan. 19, 2007, Beijing, China got its first drive-through McDonald's restaurant, a two-story building next to a gas station that celebrated its christening in a ceremony complete with traditional Chinese lion dancers and, of course, a Chinese Ronald McDonald.

* Despite the NFL making more than $9 billion annually, being projected to make more than $25 billion a year by 2027, and paying its CEO more than $30 million a year, 68% of NFL stadium construction costs since 1923 have come from taxpayer money.

* One of Walt Disney's first art jobs was drawing cartoons for a local barber in exchange for haircuts.

* The Khasis are a tribe in India that grow their own bridges. For generations, they have passed down the art of tree-root manipulation, forming centuries-old "living bridges" out of the powerful roots of Ficus elastica trees.

* Jesse James once gave a widow who housed him enough money to pay off her debt collector and then robbed the debt collector as the man left the widow's home.

* In 2007, a Swiss woman was unable to enter the U.S. because she had no fingerprints. She had a rare genetic disorder called adermatoglyphia, where a person is born without fingerprints. There are only four known extended families worldwide that are affected by this condition.

* Arnold Schwarzenegger was paid $15 million for his role in "Terminator 2," which averaged out to a most impressive $21,429 per word.

* Lions, tigers, leopards and other big cats go wild for Calvin Klein's Obsession for Men cologne! It's used by researchers to lure animals toward cameras in the wild and is sprayed at zoos and wildlife refuges.
