JUST KIDDING, JOEY

"Oh, no!" the kangaroo groaned to her friend, "the forecast calls for rain."

"What's the problem with that?" asked her friend. "We could use the rain."

"Sure," the kangaroo said.

"But that means the kids will have to play inside all day!"

STOP DOING THAT!

A poor peasant was traveling through the forest one day when a man dressed in green leapt out of the trees.

"HALT! I am Robin Hood, I take from the rich to give to the poor, now give me all your money!"

Truthfully the peasant replied, "I have nothing!"

The man in green said, "You poor man, take this." He handed the man a sack filled with gold coins, and then faded back into the forest.

The peasant stares at the gold coins and shouts, "I'm Rich!"

"HALT!"

... came a voice from the forest

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On March 17, 1905, future president Franklin Delano Roosevelt married Eleanor Roosevelt, his fifth cousin once removed, in New York. Former President Theodore Roosevelt gave away the bride.

* On March 18, 1911, composer Irving Berlin obtained the copyright for "Alexander's Ragtime Band," a multimillion-selling hit that helped turn American popular music into a major international phenomenon.

* On March 23, 1839, the initials "O.K." were first published in The Boston Morning Post. An abbreviation for "oll korrekt," a popular slang misspelling of "all correct" at the time, OK steadily made its way into the American vernacular.

* On March 19, 1957, Elvis Presley arranged to purchase the Colonial mansion on the outskirts of Memphis called Graceland for $102,500, with a cash deposit of $1,000. It is still preserved exactly as Elvis left it when he died in 1977 and is one of America's most popular tourist attractions -- the second-most-visited house in the nation after the White House.

WHEN PROBLEMS COME INTO YOUR LIFE LIKE RAIN, REMEMBER THAT GOD WILL ALWAYS BE YOUR UMBRELLA

* On March 20, 1345, according to scholars at the University of Paris, the Black Death, aka the Plague, was created from "a triple conjunction of Saturn, Jupiter and Mars in the 40th degree of Aquarius," though it was actually carried by fleas that typically traveled on rats. It cut a swath across Europe, the Middle East and Asia during the 14th century, leaving an estimated 25 million dead in its wake, and popped up periodically until the 1700s, but never again reached epidemic proportions.

* On March 21, 1980, President Jimmy Carter announced that the U.S. would boycott the Olympic Games scheduled to take place in Moscow that summer, after the Soviet Union failed to comply with his Feb. 20, 1980, deadline to withdraw its troops from Afghanistan. Four years later, in retaliation, the Soviet Union boycotted the 1984 Olympic Games held in Los Angeles.

* On March 22, 1983, the Pentagon awarded a production contract worth more than $1 billion to AM General Corp. for the development of 55,000 high mobility multipurpose wheeled vehicles. Nicknamed the Humvee and designed to transport troops and cargo, the vehicles were used by the American military during the 1989 invasion of Panama and the Persian Gulf War in the early 1990s.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Lucie

* National Donut Day originally started as a way to honor Salvation Army volunteers who served donuts to soldiers in World War I.

* A Spanish civil servant went unnoticed for six years after he stopped showing up for work until someone tried to give him an award for his long service.

* The Spangler Candy Company named their famous lollipops "Dum Dums" because it was a word that was easy for any kid to say.

* In the 1960s, the Goodyear tire company tested the bright idea of lighted tires, to be available in a range of colors. They looked pretty cool in the dark, but their unfortunate tendency to melt under heavy braking and poor performance in wet conditions doomed the concept to the dustbin.

* A 2016 study revealed that only 27% of the words spoken in the biggest movies were uttered by women.

* When a man allegedly found a dead mouse in his can of Mountain Dew, Pepsi had an expert claim in an affidavit that the drink was so acidic it would have dissolved the mouse after 30 days.

* Professional wrestler and mixed martial arts champion Ronda Rousey confessed on the "Jim Rome on Showtime" TV show that she tries to have as much sex as possible before a match because it boosts her testosterone levels.

* During his inauguration, Teddy Roosevelt wore a ring that contained a lock of Abraham Lincoln's hair.

* The Hubble Space Telescope is so powerful that it can spot the glow of a firefly from some 7,000 miles away.

* The mayor of Bogot, Colombia, once hired 420 mimes to make fun of traffic violators, believing his fellow countrymen feared ridicule more than fines.
