The Gift

A man approached the customer service counter in a large department store. He handed the only clerk on duty an item to be gift wrapped.

The clerk, never good at wrapping presents, asked, "Who's it for?"

The man answered, "My wife. She has always wanted one of these."

A few minutes later, he handed the present, wrinkled and covered with random pieces of tape, back to the man.

"I apologize. I never learned to properly wrap a present."

The man stared at the sad looking present. After a moment's reflection he smiled and said, "No problem, she'll think I wrapped it myself."

The Wedding

The wedding completed, the groom signaled to his best man.

"There's bound to be envelopes containing money and expensive items on the gift table."

I wonder if I could ask you to keep an eye on it? You see, there are some people here that I don't trust."

"Then why on earth did you invite them?"

"Had to," he answered, "they're family."

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On May 26, 1897, Bram Stoker's now iconic horror novel "Dracula" went on sale in London. Stoker's editors had deleted the first 101 pages from his manuscript and altered the text to seem less "real," since there just so happened to be a serial killer known as Jack the Ripper on the loose in the city at that time.

* On May 27, 1949, the unemployed, 22-year-old model-actress Marilyn Monroe earned $50 for posing nude for a Los Angeles photographer against a red velvet backdrop. Though it became the most famous calendar photo in history, she never earned another cent from the picture, as she had signed away all her rights to it in a release form.

* On May 30, 1993, after being stalled for four days by a blizzard 4,000 feet below the summit, Joni Phelps became the first blind climber to reach the top of Denali, North America's tallest mountain. She was guided by her twin sons.

WE ARE ALL PRECIOUS IN GOD'S EYES...HE MAY SHAKE HIS HEAD A LOT, BUT WE ARE ALL PRECIOUS TO HIM

* On May 28, 2005, Carl Edward Roland, who was wanted by police in connection with the murder of his ex-girlfriend Jennifer Gonzalez, was removed from a crane perched 18 stories above a construction site in Atlanta, where he'd spent three days. After his capture, he was eventually found guilty of first-degree murder and sentenced to life in prison.

* On May 29, 2014, transgender actor and advocate Laverne Cox appeared on the cover of TIME for its story "The Transgender Tipping Point," following a public backlash over the magazine's exclusion of Cox from its 100 most influential people reader's poll the previous month.

* On May 31, 1977, the song "God Save the Queen" by the British punk band the Sex Pistols was banned from the radio by the BBC. Three decades after its release, lead singer Johnny Rotten aptly remarked, "There are not many songs written over baked beans at the breakfast table that went on to divide a nation and force a change in popular culture."

* On June 1, 1494, Friar John Cor distilled Scotland's first whisky at Lindores Abbey, under a commission from King James IV to turn eight bolls of malt into "aqua vitae," or "water of life."

* More than 300 different species of bacteria are found in dental plaque.

* Bones found at Seymour Island indicate that 37 to 40 million years ago, penguins stood at a formidable 6 feet tall and weighed 250 pounds.

* PEZ candies were originally anti-smoking mints.

* World War II is known as "the blessed war" to many Icelanders because the country has that conflict to thank for its independence.

* Jeanne-Genevieve Garnerin was the first female parachutist. In 1799, she jumped from a hot air balloon. This jump was recorded to be around 900 meters high (over 3,000 feet). She was also one of the earliest women to fly in a balloon.

* In the 1920s and '30s, many movie theaters had signs instructing ladies to "Please Remove Your Hats" to keep their elaborate headwear from blocking anyone's view.

* Jeannette Rankin became the first female member of Congress in 1916, four years before the 19th Amendment, granting women the right to vote, was ratified.

* Mike Tyson saw Muhammad Ali's last match at the age of 14 and got mad at Larry Holmes for beating Ali. Tyson called Ali on the phone and told him, "I'll grow up and get him back for you." Seven years later, Tyson met Holmes for a match, and the then-retired Ali stepped in the ring and said, "Remember what you promised." Tyson made good on his vow in the fourth round.
