PAPER THIN

A boy was assigned a paper on heritage and genealogy. He asked his mother, "how were grandpa and grandma born?"

"Well honey," fumbled the young boy's mother, "the stork brought them into the world."

"Oh," said the boy, "then how did you and daddy get born?"

"Oh, the stork brought us too."

"Well, then, how was I born?" the boy persisted.

"Well, darling," said the mother with a sudden flash of inspiration, "why don't you ask your father!"

The boy waited patiently and, when his father came home, he asked the question, "How was I born?"

Smiling, the boy's father reached out, tousled his son's hair and said, "we found you under a cabbage leaf!"

Several days later, the boy handed in his paper to the teacher who read aloud the boy's opening sentence:

"This report has been very difficult to write. Apparently there hasn't been a natural childbirth in my family for three generations."

Moments in time THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On June 10, 1692, Bridget Bishop became the first person executed for witchcraft during the notorious Salem witch trials, after a trial lasting eight days. She had already been accused and declared innocent a decade prior to the hysteria.

* On June 11, 1509, England's King Henry VIII married the first of his ill-fated wives, Catherine of Aragon. When she failed to produce a male heir, he divorced her against the will of the Roman Catholic Church, triggering the country's Protestant Reformation. Catherine spent her last years in isolation and continued to consider herself England's rightful queen until her death.

* On June 12, 2016, Omar Mateen forced his way into Pulse, one of Orlando's biggest nightclubs, and opened fire with an assault rifle on the predominantly gay crowd. Forty-nine people died and dozens more were injured in what was then the deadliest mass shooting in modern American history.

CALL ON ME AND I WILL ANSWER YOU AND TELL YOU GREAT AND UNSEARCHABLE THINGS - JEREMIAH 33:3

* On June 13, 1805, having hurried ahead of the main body of his expedition to the Pacific with fellow explorer William Clark, Meriwether Lewis and four other men arrived at the Great Falls of the Missouri River, confirming that the party was headed in the right direction.

* On June 14, 1922, at the dedication of a memorial site for Francis Scott Key, composer of "The Star-Spangled Banner," Warren G. Harding became the first American president to have his voice transmitted by radio while addressing a crowd. It was not until three years later, however, that a president (Calvin Coolidge) would deliver a radio-specific address.

* On June 15, 1300, poet Dante Alighieri was elected one of six Priors (magistrates) of Florence, Italy, his native city.

His political activities, which included the banishment of several of his rivals, led to his exile from Florence and separation from his family for 15 years, during which time he wrote his most famous work, "The Divine Comedy."

* On June 16, 2012, China launched the Shenzhou-9 space capsule on a mission that included the country's first female astronaut, military pilot Liu Yang. The crew spent a week at the Tiangong space lab to test systems and conduct experiments.

* During the 1917 siege of Jerusalem, the British, in an effort to capture the city from an entrenched Ottoman garrison, airdropped cigarettes filled with large doses of opium in the hope their opponents would be too stoned to fight. It worked.

* Holland, Michigan, has 168 miles of tubing coiled underneath its streets that circulates hot water in order to melt any snow on the ground.

* Chinas Three Gorges Dam is so huge that its slowed the rotation of Earth.

* Hard-rocker Ozzy Osbourne once fell asleep during a driving test and woke up to find a note on the seat that said, You have failed. But give him credit for persistence: After 19 attempts, he finally managed to pass the test in 2009 at the age of 60, and then purchased a Ferrari.

* In Wisconsin, its legal for kids of any age to drink alcohol in a bar as long as they are with their legal guardian.

* The Aztecs regarded childbirth as a form of battle. Women who didnt survive it were thought to rise to one of the highest heavens, the same one as for male warriors who died in battle.

* In 1986 a Soviet pilot made a bet with his co-pilot that he could land his airplane blind. He curtained all the cockpit windows and crashed the plane into the landing strip, killing 70 out of his 87 passengers.

* Dwayne Johnsons beard in the movie Hercules was made of yak testicle hair.

Thought for the Day: Life is like skiing. The goal is not to get to the bottom of the hill. Its to have a bunch of good runs before the sun sets. Ñ Seth Godin
