Grin and Bear It

A Giant Panda Bear walks into a restaurant. He orders some food and eats it. Then he pulls out a pistol and shoots his waiter in the foot and starts for the door.

"Hey, you can't do that," shouts the manager. "You just shot my waiter! Where do you think you're going?"

"I'm a Giant Panda," the bear replied, indignantly. "Look it up."

When the Panda had left, the manager googled Giant Panda Bears. Sure enough, under Giant Panda Bears first thing to pop up said, "Furry mammal, lives in China. Eats shoots and leaves..."

It's A Stretch

A man went into his bank and withdrew $5000 in one hundred dollar bills. He wrapped the wad of bills with a rubber band and stuck them in his pocket,

After he had walked a block, he checked his pocket. To his dismay, the money was gone. He rushed back to the bank.

In his haste to enter the bank, he collided with an old man,

"Young man, have you lost some money tied with a rubber band?" asked the old man,

With great relief, the man said, "Yes, yes, I have!"

"Well," the old man said holding out his hand. "I found your rubber band."

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On Dec. 2, 1972, the Temptations earned the last of their four chart-topping hits when "Papa Was a Rollin' Stone" made it to No. 1 on the Billboard Hot 100. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1989.

* On Dec. 3, 1984, an explosion at a Union Carbide pesticide plant in Bhopal, India, marked the worst industrial accident in history. At least 5,000 people died immediately, according to official estimates, while approximately 20,000 died over time and another half-million were injured when toxic gas enveloped the city.

* On Dec. 4, 1917, psychiatrist W.H.R. Rivers presented a report titled "The Repression of War Experience" to the Royal School of Medicine. The report was based on his work at the Craiglockhart War Hospital for Neurasthenic Officers, near Edinburgh, which was one of the most famous hospitals used to treat soldiers suffering psychological trauma after serving on the battlefield.

* On Dec. 5, 1776, five students at Williamsburg, Virginia's College of William & Mary gathered at Raleigh's Tavern to found a new fraternity they called Phi Beta Kappa, which was intended to follow strictly American principles rather than those espoused by England or Germany and in which members engaged in the kind of fervent political debate characteristic of the school's student life.

* On Dec. 6, 1961, Syracuse running back Ernie Davis became the first African American player to win the Heisman Trophy, beating out Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson. Earlier that day Davis had met John F. Kennedy at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York, remarking that he'd "never thought I'd ever be shaking the hand of the president of the United States."

* On Dec. 7, 2001, the blockbuster remake of the 1960 film "Ocean's Eleven" opened in theaters. Directed by Steven Soderbergh, it spawned the profitable sequels "Ocean's Twelve" in 2004 and "Ocean's Thirteen" in 2007.

* On Dec. 8, 1942, Jeannette Rankin, a committed pacifist and the first woman elected to Congress, cast the sole congressional vote against America's declaration of war on Japan.

Strange BUT TRUE

By

Winbourne

- * In 1674, the Women's Petition Against Coffee claimed the beverage was turning British men into "useless corpse[s]" and proposed a ban on it for anyone under the age of 60.
- * Eugene V. Debs ran for president in 1920 while serving a prison sentence in Atlanta Federal Penitentiary for his protests against World War I. He still captured nearly 1 million votes.
- * The plot of "The Nightmare Before Christmas" was partly inspired by the collision of holiday store decorations.
- * In a study by the Smell and Taste Treatment Research Foundation, the scent women found most arousing was Good & Plenty candy mixed with cucumber.
- * Arachibutyrophobia is the fear of peanut butter getting stuck to the roof of your mouth.
- * Lancaster, Pennsylvania, was the U.S. capital for the shortest period of time, a mere day, on Sept. 27, 1777.
- * Aretha Franklin's voice was declared a "natural resource" of the state of Michigan.
- * In 1967, supermodel Twiggy became the first celebrity to be immortalized as a Barbie doll. Other celebrity Barbies have included Cher, Elizabeth Taylor, Elvis and Priscilla Presley, and Nicki Minaj.

- * Cotton candy was invented in 1895 by candy maker John C. Wharton and dentist William Morrison, who called it "fairy floss" and sold thousands of servings at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904. It was renamed "cotton candy" in the 1920s by Josef Lascaux -- another dentist -- who sold the saccharine confection to his patients. Hmmm, sounds a little bit suspicious to us.

- * A face with big eyes, a small nose and a small chin exhibits kinder-schema: the collection of traits humans have evolved to find adorable
